Neal Royer to Head "Old Settlers' Day"

Neal Royer, assistant superintendent of the Campbell elementary school district, has accepted the general chairmanship of the 65th Old Settlers Day celebration in Campbell May 17-18-19, it was announced this week by Douglas Beatty, Chamber of Commerce president.

Royer will have the experienced aid of Sam Cava, secretary-manager of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, in the supervision of the traditional event. Cava has been instrumental in the success of the last four Old Settlers Day programs. Old Settlers' Day, sponsored by the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, is the second oldest celebration in the state.

General committee members were being named this week. Each club and organization in the Campbell area has been asked to name a representative and alternate to serve on the general committee. Members of the general committee will also serve on various sub-committees for the event.

Cava reported this week that several organizations have alrady named their representatives. Among these are, Florence Myring, American Legion Auxiliary; Jerry Furtado, BPW; Mrs. Tina Taylor, Mrs. Ross Trowbridge, Campbell Republican Women Federation; Mrs. John Prolo, Mrs. Fred Smith, Campbell Garden Club; Jerry Madsen, Frank Huff, Order of DeMolay; Will Ragent, Ted Harrell, Camden High School.

Both Royer and Cava appealed to all other organizations in the community to name their representatives at once in order that preparations for the 65th annual event get started at once. There are more than 28 groups yet to answer.

The traditional parade which has become a highlight of the Old Settlers Day program, will be staged on Sunday at 2 p.m. so as not to interfere with the church services in the morning.

Coming Down?

City Attorney Joseph Bonacina was directed by the City Council Monday night to find out from Carl Field, what he intends to do with the store building at 255 E. Campbell Ave. Field is the owner of the buildiing which was formerly occupied by the Campbell Hardware.

The matter was brought to the Council's attention by W. L. (Bud) Morser, building inspector. He submitted correspondence to the City Fathers which showed that the building had been declared unsafe and that Field had been informed of this fact.

Morser had directed Field to take action by February 15 to "repair, rehabilitate or demolish" but the inspector said he had received no reply from the owner. In his last letter to Field on February 21 he had asked to be advised as to what was to be done about it. This was five days after the original deadline set.

Adults Can Get Polio Shots at Two Schools Here

Polio shots to adults in this area will be given again at clinics at the Hamilton School and the San Tomas School this Friday, March 15, from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m.

At the first clinic held last Friday at the same two schools, 379 local residents took advantage of the polio vaccination program. The clinics are a part of the statewide effort to reduce the paralytic polio among the age group of 20 to 40, especially the parents of young children.

The program is being conducted under a $3 million state grant under the direction of the Santa Clara County Health Department in cooperation with the Santa Clara County Medical Society.

Additional clinics will be held at the two schools in this area at the same hours on Friday, March 22, and April 5, 12, and 19.

Dr. W. Elwyn Turner, director of public health emphasizes that adults should realize that polio is a disease not limited to children. Last year more than one-third of the cases in the county occurred in the adult group over 20 years of age.

Dr. Turner said that a series of three shots is necessary for effective and longer lasting immunity against polio. The second shot should be received four to six weeks after the first shot, and the third shot between seven months and a year after the second shot.

Local residents, Dr. Turner adds, by acting promptly could obtain the first two shots during the next three months at the public clinics. Those needing their third shots may also come to the public polio clinics during the next three months.

The Hamilton schools is located at 480 E. Hamilton and the San Tomas School a 1100 Hacienda.

Post Office to Go On Old Church Property

Postal Officials Agree to Plans Submitted by Jewell and Jensen

Campbell's new post office will be located at N. First St., and E. Campbell Ave. on property formerly occupied by the Methodist Church.

Postal officials announced this week that they had accepted a land-option for the site from Henry Jewell and Oliver Jensen, who had purchased the property from the Methodist Church.

The announcement by the post office department thus rang down the curtain on a long-drawn out struggle which had its beginning last summer and reached its climax several months ago when the department announced that the new post office was to go on N. Central Ave. near Grant.

The postal officials halted all proceedings for the location of the post office on N. Central when it became apparent that public opinion was against such a location. The narrow street and lack of parking facilities were the main objectives to this spot.

In the meantime the Methodist Church property had become available through its sale to Jewell and Jensen. Prior to choosing the N. Central Ave. location, postal authorities had attempted to acquire the church property but it was not available at the time.

The Press Sounds Off

The Campbell Press took a leading part in voicing the opposition to the N. Central Ave. site and arounsing public opinion on the matter. In view of the circumstances, postal officials agreed to halt proceedings and see if an agreement could be worked out to obtain the church property.

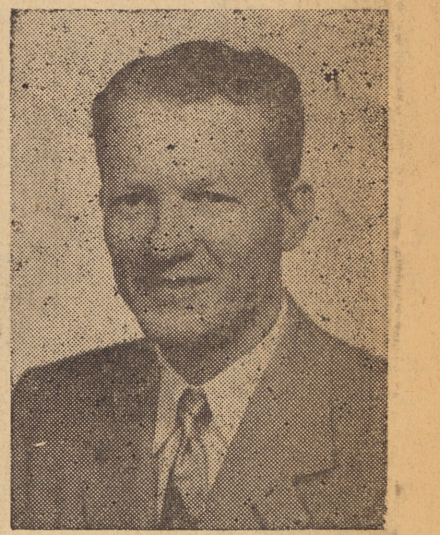
Congressman Charles Gubser interested himself in the problem and it was largely due to his efforts that the postal officials agreed to review the situation.

Gubser notified The Press this week by wire that the decision had been made to put the office on First St. and Campbell Ave. In his wire he said that he was pleased to have been able to lend his support in securing a more satisfactory location for the new post office.

Sam Cava, secretary-manager of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, acting under the directions of the board of directors, also took an active part in the campaign to get the post office location shifted to a more suitable spot. Cava was contacted by phone from Washington by Rollin Barnard a deputy postmaster general, on the matter and he was also in contact with Harold J. Cooke, regional real estate manager and J. F. Dempsey, real estate inspector, during the negotiations.

Officials Cooperative

Both Cooke and Dempsey, who work out of San Francisco, were cooperative with local officials and business people in their attempt to come up with the right answer.



A. G. KNOWLES
. . . Postmaster??

Postmaster Boosts Knowles for Job

Support for the appointment of Arthur Glen Knowles as Campbell postmaster gained ground this week with the announcement by Postmaster Ira Grim, who retires this month, that he favors Knowles as his successor.

Knowles is at present a career clerk in the local post office where he has been employed for the last seven years. He is a long-time resident of Campbell coming here at the age of four in 1920 with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Knowles, who still reside at 180 W. Rincon.

Knowles, who lives at 89 Cherry Lane with his wife, Evelyn and daughter Mary Louise, is a graduate of both the Campbell Grammar and Campbell High schools. His three brothers and four sisters are also graduates of the Campbell schools.

Knowles has been active in American Legion circles since his discharge from the Navy in 1946. He served as commander of the old Campbell Post and is presently on the board of directors and is chaplain of the West Valley Post (combined Los Gatos-Campbell).

Knowles spent almost seven years in the Navy entering in 1939 and leaving in 1946. Prior to his employment at the post office he was employed by Hunt's Foods. He entered the postal service in 1950.

Another person mentioned for the job of postmaster is Mrs. E. T. Litynsky, 811 Audrey Ave., Campbell. It is understood she has applied for the position.

School Students Win Bank Awards

Four students, two boys and two girls of Campbell High School have been named recipients of the Bank of America Achievement Awards, it was announced this week. Those named were Arthur Hill, science and mathematics; Ruth Rutherford, fine arts; Eugen Andres, liberal arts; and Leora Scattini, vocational arts.

The honor students were chosen by the faculty of the high school and each one has made a significant contribution to the school, it was announced.

Miss Rutherford has been active in music activities both in school and her church where she has served as organist and soloist. Miss Scattini is a life member of the California Scholarship Federation and has been active in Future Homemakers and in school affairs. Both Hill and Andres have been active in sports and other student activities. They have served on the Student Council and are both members of CSF. Both are Eagle Scouts also.

Bank of America annually recognizes outstanding high school seniors in various fields and the purpose of the awards is "to stimulate and encourage high school students in their academic, citizenship and vocational training."

City Council Pushes Annexation Campaign

Campbell City Council on Monday set April 22 as the public hearing date for two proposed annexations to Campbell on the southern city limits and March 25 as the date for hearing appeals on two cases resulting from actions of the Planning Commission.

One of the appeals was that of Mrs. Gladys Crump, represented by John Thorne, San Jose attorney. Mrs. Crump had been denied a use permit to operate a trailer court on property on Dillon Ave.

The other appeal is that of A. C. Gouldiing, 361 N. San Jose-Los Gatos Road. His residential property adjoins the G and P Equipment Co. for which a use permit to operate the business has just recently been approved by the City Planners. Goulding claims that the noise and dirt raised by the equipment rental firm make conditions intolerable

In anoher annexation matter the City Fathers indicated that they would look with favor on a "strip annexation along Virginia Ave. to Hacienda from Budd Ave. This annexation would bring 13½ acres into the city on which Eugene Rafelo and Kenneth Taylor, subdividers, plan to construct 52 houses on 8000 square feet lots.

At Monday's meeting a petition from residents of E. Rosemary Lane was presented and filed with the Council. The residents of the street are protesting the construction of apartment buildings in the Rosemary Lane-Winchester Road-Mailton Ave. area. They claim that their deed restrictions protect them from apartments as the original subdivider had guaranteed that the area would be used for only a commercial building or a medical center.

Approval of the plans for two apartment buildings in the area have been granted by the City Planners. Four of the residents were present to ask the Council what could be done about stopping them.

Mayor John M. Chargin attempted to explain to the apartment-objectors that the City could not enforce deed restrictions. The use of the land and the plans of the buildings were the City's only province. But he had trouble "getting through" to J. H. Petrie, who acted as spokesman for the disgruntled residents.

City Needs Parks, More Firehouses, But it Takes $$ to Get 'Em

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third in a series of reports dealing with needed city improvements. Firehouses and parks are discussed in this article, while in previous ones street improvements, storm drains and a corporation yard were discussed.

The Press is presenting these reports in collaboration with Councilman Richard Morton, the City's first mayor who has served continuously on the City Council since the City was incorporated.

In the final report, a ballot will be included so that citizens will be able to "vote" on how they want their City Council to proceed. G.V.

The City of Campbell does not have sufficient firehouses at the present time and there is no city park. These are two very definite and obvious deficiencies in the level of services offered by the City. The developments also are tied together and that is why firehouses and parks are being considered in this week's report.

FIRE HOUSES

The lack of necessary firehouses is the one that has more direct dollar and cents consequences than any of the other deficiencies found in the city. The question of protection of life and property of the citizens of Campbell is at stake. The adequacy and extent of fire protection within a city also has a direct effect upon the insurance rates in connection with fire insurance coverage of all structures. As the protection increases, the rates decrease.

Most cities have found that the aggregate savings in insurance usually exceed the cost of increase in any fire protection facilities.

Some Steps Taken

Certain definite steps toward bettering the fire protection system have already been taken by Campbell. This has included the acquisition of new equipment, the staffing of the present fire house with paid personnel, and the improvement of the water system and hydrants located thereon. But this is not enough.

Campbell has only one fire station for the entire city. It is centrally located, well equipped, and staffed with a minimum number of paid personnel and an efficient volunteer group. This one fire station is adequate for servicing the central section, including the commercial area of the city. But it is not adequate for protecting the outlying subdivisions and our new industrial area located along Winchester Road to the south.

From this one fire house, it is more than one and a half miles to the Leigh Avenue area over the railroad tracks and across the proposed Route 5 and the San Jose-Los Gatos Road. It is more than one and a quarter mlies to the northern city limits across Hamilton Avenue, which is now being improved as a major thoroughfare with all of its attendant heavy traffic. It is more than two and a quarter mlies to our western city limits at the Los Ranchitos subdivision across the dangerous intersections of Winchester Road and Campbell Avenue, and San Tomas Road and Campbell Avenue. It is almost two miles to the new industrial area across the dangerous intersections on Winchester Road at Campbell Avenue and Casey Road.

"Runs" Are Too Long

These "runs" for a fire engine are too long. The delays resulting from such distances definitely endanger the property of our citizens. The routes that have to be traversed endanger the lives of our citizens from a traffic viewpoint.

There is a present need of at least two more fire stations for the City of Campbell. One should be located in the northeast section and the second in the southwest section. The not too distant future would also require an additional house to be located in the northwest section. However, this report will be concerned with the first two referred to.

Each new firehouse should be located on a site of a minimum of one acre in size. It is estimated that such a site could be acquired for $6,500. That would make a total of $13,000 for land acquisition. It would cost approximately $40,000 to build and furnish each firehouse. Because the proposed firehouses would be located in residential sections, they would have to be constructed in such architectural form as would conform to the neighborhood in which they are established. Thus, the total capital outlay for both new firehouses would be $93,000.

Not The Whole Cost

But that is not the whole cost; an empty firehouse doesn't help in the putting out of fires. Each house must be equipped with a fire truck of good standards and other incidental equipment, and it must be adequately staffed with full-time personnel. A new fire truck and accessory equipment can be purchased and maintained at an annual amortized cost of approximately $4,000. Three paid men costs the city approximately $12,000 a year. Thus, the annual operating cost for each new firehouse would be $16,000, or a total of $32,000 for both.

PARKS

It is in connection with parks that the City of Campbell is at its lowest level of municipal services. There is no city park. It would seem apparent, that in order for Campbell to perform its obligation to its citizenry to the fullest, that it provide facilities for rest, relaxation, and family activity. This would require areas strategically located throughout the city with proper landscaping and with picnic and barbecue facilities, but not necessarily a full-fledged recreation program. The school systems are doing a good job in this connection and the city would not yet appear to be mature enough to undertake this obligation.

Acquisition of Land

The basic requirement for a park system is the acquisition of land, which makes it imperative that this program be undertaken at once. Land in Campbell is not becoming less expensive. In addition, as land is improved with subdivisions, commercial and industrial developments, the availability of such for park purposes is lessened.

The first step that should be taken in connection with the development of a park system is to acquire additional land for the expansion of any new firehouse sites that are obtained. It is advisable that these two programs go hand in hand. The obvious reason is that where municipal parks are located adjacent to firehouses, there is an unexcelled opportunity for improvement and maintenance of those parks by already existing municipal personnel.

Another immediate development in the park system could be the utilization of the area which is leased by the city on the bank of the Los Gatos Creek at the intersection of Gilman Avenue and Campbell Avenue, and which has been given some consideration for use as the location of the municipal corporation yard. If not so used, it would make an admirable park site in an area which sorely needs the same.

If two new firehouses were established, three acres of land could be added to each site at a cost of approximately $6,500 per acre. It is estimated that the landscaping and improvements to be made on each site would be $5,500. Thus, the total cost of acqiusition of the land, the making of improvements on the three sites mentioned would be $55,500.

Operation Cost

Establishing a park system, as in other programs, would add to the city's operating cost. The firemen could not do everything necessary upon the parks.

The reasonable annual cost of amortizing equipment and installations with respect to the three sites would be $2,400, and one full-time gardener and maintenance man would be required at an estimated salary of $3,600 per year, or a total of $6,000 each year.

Planning Commission Approves Four Applications and Turns Down One

Campbell City Planners okayed four applications for architectural approval last Thursday night and turned down one.

In another case the Planners discussed the tentative plans presented by Ludeman-Townsend Co. for proposed construction in the new Campbell industrial park. The firm, which is one of the first of the new industries to come to Campbell, will be located in a section which is not yet in the city limits.

R. L. Townsend, of the firm, was present at the meeting and explained that his firm was willing to conform in any way the city wanted it to and that it had been suggested by the City Council that they present the plans to the City Planners, even if the area was not in the city, so that the matter would be expedited.

Tension between Townsend and members of the Planning Commission and Nestor Barrett, planning consultant, arose to a high pitch for a brief period during the discussion. Townsend indicated that he thought the Planners were making the entire situation much more complicated than was warranted.

Dick Salice, newest member of the Commission, assured the firm that the City of Campbell welcomed industries and would help in any way. By his diplomatic effort, he was thus able, to a certain extent, to soothe the somewhat ruffled tempers of the midwest industrialist who wants to locate in Campbell.

In other matters the Commission:

(1) By a 5-1 vote (Chairman Sam O'Brien dissenting) granted a use permit for the G and P Equipment Rental at 473 N. San Jose-Los Gatos Road;

(2) Denied approval of plans for an eight lot apartment development submitted by William King at N. Central and Harrison on the grounds the proposed parking would cause a traffic hazard.

(3) Approved the plans for a commercial building submitted by Marion R. Nimerick. The building will be located at Rincon and Winchester.

(4) Approved the plans for the corporation yard for Sanitation District No. 4 to be located south of Camden Ave., in Campbell's new industrial park.

(5) Okayed the plans of G. Stubbe for a three-unit apartment at 1532 Dunster Drive.

(6) Turned down the map of a proposed eight-lot apartment development at San Tomas Road and Campbell Ave. as "poor planning".

ANNA RUSSELL
. . . Comedienne

Anna Russell, often termed the funniest woman in the world, will appear in person for one show only at the San Jose Civic Auditorium, Friday evening, March 22 at 8:30.

As a professional concert artist, she subsequently drew more unintentional laughs than any other serious recitalist or opera singer within living memory. Not because her voice is funny—it was and is, as a matter of fact, good—but because the audience counld not contain themselves after one glance at her strapping figure and her cheery face which has been described as being "as flexible as a collapsible camp chair."

Since becoming a musical satirist, Anna Russell has continued to establish and break records in whatever cities she appears in her transcontinental tours, and she has made three of them. Her recordings have become world famous and she has made appearances on such major radio and TV shows as Ed Suulivan, Omnibus, and has appeared in opera and movies.

The Anna Russell show puts audiences in an uproar wherever she appears and local theater goers will have their chance to see what the rest of the world has been laughing at when she makes her first appearance in San Jose presented by Wendell Watkins.

Traffic Deaths Rise in State Patrol Reports

California's traffic death toll of 237 for February, representing a reduction of 9 per cent for the month, brings the 1957 total to 517 persons killed in traffic, according to provisional figures released by the California Highway Patrol.

"These figures indicate an increase of nearly 5 per cent in the number of persons killed this year on our streets and highways compared to the same period in 1956", declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "Increased traffic continued violations of traffic laws and bad driving practices are combining to keep the death toll ahead of last year's all time high.

It remain evident that only a drastic change in driving habits toward stricter obedience to all traffic laws will control the current rise," Caldwell staed. "Until motorists prove their desire for highway safety by driving in accordance with the laws, the Highway Patrol and all traffic enforcement agencies must continue to apply professional enforcement in their effort to control the situation."

SILLY QUESTION?

Do you always drive on your own side of the white line? This is not as silly a question as you might think. The California State Automobile Association says that fifteen out of every hundred drivers who are involved in a fatal accident on the highway have crossed the center dividing line.

Red Cross Fund Drive Goes Into Its Second Week

Campbell volunteer women, under the leadership of Mrs. Edward H. Ryan, are continuing their house to house solicitation of area homes as the Red Cross annual fund and membership campaign goes into its second week.

Collection as of this date in the Campbell area are approximately $2,000 and Mrs. Ryan and Howard Lillingston, president of the Campbell branch, expressel confidence that the combined goal of $5,720.00 for the Campbell-Cambrian Park area will be subscribed.

A feeling of enthusiasm prevailed at the first general report luncheon meeting held in the San Jose Chapter House. Patrick H. Peabody, general chairman, told the group of division and branch chapter leaders present that the campaign is progressing in good shape, with indications that the over-all quota of $182,400 will be subscribed before the end of March.

It was emphasized that the rapidly growing chapter area is vitally in need of the expanding Red Cross services, including the Blood Program, assistance to men in military service and their families, Home Nursing, Water Safety and First Aid instruction programs and Disaster Relief and Preparedness.

In the Strawberry Park area, Mrs. A. Fichera, section chairman, of 707 Broodmoor Drive, held a brunch at her home for five block workers who had finished covering blocks assigned to them. Two more brunches are scheduled, the last one to be Monday, March 18, at 10 a.m., in anticipation of their completion of work. A gift will be donated by Mrs. Fichera to the worker bringing in the largest amount of contributions in the Strawberry Park area.

In Quito, Mrs. Audrey Dobbs, 18265 Swathmore Drive, will entertain her block workers at 1 p. m. Wednesday at her home.

Bucs Lose to Lincoln High, 6-2 in First Baseball Game of '57 Season

By Richard Ferguson

Campbell Hig's varsity mittmen started off the 1957 baseball season on the wrong foot Monday afternoon when they were thumped by the Lincoln Lions 6-2 on the loser's diamond.

Campbell finished first in SCAL competitioon last year and hopes to repeat that feat this year. Lincoln is in a different league than the Bucs.

The first inning started out slowly. Jim Cole was on the mound for Campbell with Jim Corbus behind the plate. It was three up and three down for both clubs in the first but Cole walked two players in the second inning and the next batter connected for a double into center field to hit in two RBI's. Lincoln twice scored again in the second on a walk, a stolen base and then a double.

Campbell went down 1-2-3 in the top of the third with Krewall, Ochoa and Cole being thrown out.

The lead-off hitter for Lincoln connected to right field but was thrown out trying to steal second. A pop fly to right field sent the next man to the dugout with his following teamate fanning the breeze for the final out.

Campbell's lead-off hitter, Ben Lujan started things off with a bang in the fourth inning by dropping a triple into the center field. LaBarbera popped out to short stop but Zonotto hit a well-aimed pitch down the first base line with just enough time for Lujan to slide into home plate safely.

Eight men went to the plate for the Lions in the fourth inning, two runs coming in on outfield flies. Lincoln had the edge 6-2 going into the fifth inning.

Jim Cole slammed the first pitch of the sixth inning over the second baseman's head but missed getting even to first by a great save. Ben Lujan popped out to second base by Dave Labarbera collected the first walk of the game on the Lincoln pitcher, Sanchez, with Gene Bowen slugging him home on an overthrow to first base. Jim Corbus went down swinging to finsh off the Buc rally.

Leading off with a single, the Lions looked as if they were all set to score again, but the threat was quenched with a bunt which pitcher Jim Cole picked up and rifled home for a very close out.

Hector Cordova walked in the final inning but was called out on a close play at third. Tom Perry and John Kriewall were the last two batters for Campbell but they failed to hit safely.

Neal Royer Is President-Elect Of Rotary Club

New officers for the coming year were eletcted when the Rotary Club met for luncheon Monday. President-elect is Neal Royer, assistant superintendent of the Campbell Grammar School District. Other officers elected to serve with him are: George Miskulin, vice-president; Forrest Reese, secretary; Bob Culp, treasurer. New directors are Ed Tonini and Mario Saia.

Guest speaker was Dean Sullivan of the University of Santa Clara who spoke on "Water Conservation." Sullivan told the group that the day is coming when all water will be cleaned and re-used and that it would cost $3,500,000 for up to 70 years to import water to the valley by way of a South Bay aqueduct from the Sacramento River area.

Sullivan said the valley has an underground reservoir of 1,000,000 acre feet and is using 150,000 acre feet annually, returning only 100,000 acre feet per year, thus causing a subsidence problem when water is pumped out.

Continuing, Sullivan said the Santa Clara Water Conservation Department wants to develop 400 acres of percolation areas to supplement the 100 acres now in use, and that this is the purpose of the coming bond measure soon to be placed before the public. He also spoke of the cloud-seeding program and said it would require a number of years of study of hte target and the outside control areas before its effectiveness could be determined.

CAMDEN BEAT SANTA CRUZ

With Tom DiPollina and Warren Roberts combining to pitch a one-hitter, Camden High upended Santa Cruz, 5-2, at Camden's field Tuesday afternoon. DiPollina hurled three hitless, runless innings, and the only hit off Roberts was a home run by pinch-hitter, Fred McPherson in the sixth inning.

ON CAPITOL HILL

By Representative Charles S. Gubser

In 1851, a litle-known editor of the Terre Haute, Indiana, "Express", named John B. L. Soule, issued some very famous advice—"Go West, Young Man". Horace Greeley, the famous editor of the "New York Tribune", reprinted the editorial, and improved the saying to read, "Go West, Young Man, and grow up with the country." Greeley has since been given full credit for the statement.

But regardless of who authored the remark, it certainly has had its effect upon the country, and particularly, the Halls of Congress.

Each ten years, on the basis of the decennial census, the representation in Congress changes. Apparently, countless persons have heeded Mr. Soule's advice because, with each census, we see increased representation in the far west. California, with twenty-three representatives in Congress in 1950, now has thirty. In 1960 we expect to have thirty-seven or thirty-eight and will become the second largest state as far as representation is concerned.

When first elected to Congress in 1952, I had 371,000 constituents. Today, I serve over 550,000. With such growth, it is obvious that the Tenth District will probably have two Congressmen in another six years. Santa Clara County, with two Assemblymen at present, will undoubtedly have three; while San Francisco, Oakland and other areas will lose representation.

How districts are carved out will be determined by the Legislature elected in the fall of 1960 as it meets in January of 1961. On a strictly partisan vote. the new Congressional and Assembly Districts, plus the distribution of California's seven or eight added representatives, will be determined. If the Democrats control the Legislature, you can expect new districts favorable to Democratic incumbents and Democratic hopefuls. The same goes if the Republicans control. With the State Legislature so evenly divided between the two parties, probably the most crucial battle in California's political history is shaping up.

Over one hundred years later, the true significance of the remark, "Go West, Young Man", will finally be realized.

Too often society looks at a man and says he has one bad eye, when what's more important is that he has one good one.

EDITORIAL

Growing With the Area

It is not necessary to go very far afield from our own editorial office to realize that the Campbell area is expanding at a rapid clip.

All businesses in the town must recognize that there is a steady growth pattern that is being followed. To survive in the new era each business must grow right along with the area.

Some sage observer has noted that one never can stand still, either one must go forward or backward.

We think this particularly applies to those of us who are fortunate enough to be living and working in the Santa Clara Valley, except we doubt very much that it would be possible to go backward in face of the continuous changes that are being made in the landscape, business, and population.

It is continuous struggle to keep pace with the advancing tide and we often wonder whether we can do it. But somehow most of us can manage to keep up, although in many cases we don't realize what is happening.

Not being able to see the forest for the trees is the way someone has termed it.

The Campbell Press has not been immune from growing pains but so far we have managed to keep the pains under control. Somehow we have not allowed them to turn into any chronic illness and our "suffering" so far has not been too severe.

The year 1956 as far as the Press was concerned was a turning point to a degree. As we go into the end of the first quarter of 1957, we realize with a sense of pride what we have accomplished during the past year and how much our operation has changed in just a short period of time.

We have a long, long way to go before we will be satisfied with our operation but it is with a great deal of satisfaction that we review the recent changes that have taken place here at The Press.

The kinks in the operation of the new press, which was purchased at the tail-end of 1955, were pretty much eliminated during 1956. The installation of the press was one of the major steps in the progress of the paper. It made it possible for us to keep pace with the increased circulation which we knew was inevitable.

During 1956 the circulation did increase and with a new press it was possible for us to take the growth more or less in stride.

And even more recently we revamped the lighting system of the back shop.

With our increased coverage, the merchants have found that the Campbell Press provides an excellent medium to use in selling their wares. During 1956 we have had to undergo several rigid "tests' from merchants who wanted to compare the pulling power of The Press in this area with a San Jose daily.

In every case the "pulling power" of The Press has proved superior in the Campbell area. We are proud of that record also.

During the year we have also attempted to give our readers a paper that they would like newswise. We have tried to follow the old baseball precept of "hitting where they ain't." We maintain we give our readers a coverage in news that they cannot find in any other medium.

We are continually striving to do better in this department also. Again we feel there is no place for self-complacency, for we have too far to go. But we are going to keep on trying to do a better job.

As we review the achievements, we realize that we have been going forward along with the entire area. We are confident that this area will continue to advance and we will do our best to keep up.

For sure we can't stand still and we are not going backward.

Over the Years

By John D. Blaine

Over the years when the late Leigh Atherton Childers Saunders was associted with the J. C. Ainsley Packing Company, whose product of canned fruit was famed for its high quality, I saw Mr. Saunders walking back and forth between home and business with his characteristic long and vigorour strides, as only the English know how to walk.

He always commanded my admiration. He had an air of unobtrusive aristocracy, a handsome profile that I envied, an overall style of superior manhood that some fortunate few are born with.

Suddenly after his passing at the ripe age 86 I learned that the Leigh (pronounced Lee) part of his name was connected with the pioneer Leigh family of Leigh Avenue, English people who had led in the fruit growing of this section. At once I sensed a story for this column.

So I hastened to the beautiful home of Mrs. Alice Leigh Hume, one of the Leigh family with whom I am somewhat acquainted, and who lives at Delicia Acres (Delicia being a family name), at 991 Dry Creek Road. Through Mrs. Hume's kindness I received much help with the facts given here.

Born in 1870

Leigh Atherton Childers Saunders was born in 1870 on the Island of Jersey in the English Channel. His father was Captain Hugh Atherton Saunders of the English Army. The son was preparing for a military career also but yielded instead to the lure of fruit growing in California. Fruit growing in this state was just then in a boom and drawing many Englishmen for a life of "gentleman farming."

Young Saunders had a special advantage. His maternal grandmother, Mrs. Delicia Leigh, widow of Dr. Alexander Leigh of the 16th Royal Rifles, had purchased 180 acres of California land to make a home for her son Hugh Alexander Leigh. With excellent judgment Hugh had in 1872 planted apricot trees in one of the few parts of the world where this fruit can be successfully grown. When young Saunders arrived at the Leigh farm in 1891 the first of the Leigh orchard was 19 years old and highly productive. No better orchard to study could in that region be found.

Young Saunders extended his study of orchards from the Leigh property to other farms in the hands of English people. In the course of a few years this move proved fateful. It led to his acquaintance with Rosa Lucile Tanner, of Sussex, England, who was visiting a sister who owned property on Moorpark Avenue, not far from the Leigh farm. This friendship ripened into love and resulted in their marriage.

The two were soon established on a fruit farm of their own on Latimer Avenue, near Campbell. While they lived here their daughter Violet, now Mrs. Pomeroy of Los Gatos, was born.

In the meanwhile J. C. Ainsley, of whose plant I have spoken, another Englishman "fruit attracted" to California, was from a small start rapidly building a highly successful fruit canning industry. After the property on Latimer Avenue had been sold and Mr. Saunders had spent several years in Mexico developing citrus land he was called by Mr. Ainsley to be one of the basic associates of the Ainsley business. Mr. Ainsley wanted men of dependable character. He made no mistake in selecting Leigh Atherton Childers Saunders.

30 Years With Ainsley

Mr. Saunders was associated with Mr. Ainsley 30 years, or through the golden age of the fruit canning industry so far as Campbell, celebrated "Orchard City," was concerned. In addition to making a fortune for himself Mr. Ainsley provided high class employment for a Campbell generation—after the small start of experimental canning on a home cook stove.

This golden age closed. In what is now called the Great Depression Mr. Ainsley, noted for sound judgment, decided to accept an offer for the purchase of his factory. Today that former factory, emptied of its machinery, is only a warehouse, a reminder of the glory that was.

Among those of Mr. Ainsley's associates who retired from active vocational life when the factory was sold was Leigh Atherton Childers Saunders. Thereafter he spent much time at his hobby of landscape gardening. He made his English style home on Alice Avenue, Campbell, a showplace. Here in beautiful surroundings that symbolize what he quietly was, and after 60 years of happy married life, his widow survives him. Surviving also are their daughter, a granddaughter, and three great-grandchildren.

In the years of his retirement I often saw Mr. Saunders swinging along with his vigorous stride as of old. And I met him in local stores and in the Campbell library. And I am prepared to believe that, as Mrs. Hume said, wherever he habitually went he was loved.

We were gently slapped on the wrist this week by Rex Kaber, adjutant of the West Valley Post 158, American Legion. In this column last week we mentioned that both Mayor John M. Chargin and Councilman Dick Morton had taken exception to the charges contained in "The Legion Ear", the monthly bulletin of the Legion Post. The bulletin edited by Kaber, as adjutant, related the Post's side of the current hassle over the site of the proposed Legion clubhouse on E. Parr Ave. on the banks of the Los Gatos Creek.

The two city officials have denied the charges listed in "The Legion Ear" that they are antagonnistic toward veterans' organizations. Chargin went even further and declared he was opposed to the "pros" in the organization.

Anyway, in reporting the controversy in this column we suggested that it illustrated how important it was to "get your quotes right", an old newspaper admonition.

Rex took exception to our wording. We implied that he, as adjutant had charged both city officials with being opposed to veteran organizations. Actually the adjutant was only directly involved with one quote, that of Mayor Chargin. Morton, the former mayor, is reported to have made his statement on the subject to William Mattenberger, the Post's attorney from Los Gatos. Rex noted on the bulletin he dropped in the mail to us that we would receive a bulletin regularly . . . "In order that you may get your quotes correctly in the future", was the way he put it.

In last week's column we reported also that we had noticed the sign (and picture of barbershop pole) on the outside of the old Hunt's cannery facing Campbell Ave. Only the letters SPEBSQSA were on the sign.

We remarked that we didn't know when the sign had gone up there. But we were pretty sure it meant "Society for the Preservation of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America".

This week Bob James, of the Campbell Water Co., filled us in with the missing details.

He said we had only left out "Encouragement" (That's what the "E" stands for) in our translation of the sign. The sign has been up, Bob reported, since shortly after the first of the year when the Hunt's people agreed to let the San Jose chapter of the national barbershop singing organization meet in the old offices.

Bob is a member of the San Jose group which meets and practices here once a week. He said the space works out fine. The big main room can be used when several groups are harmonizing and the little offices opening off the main job work out swell for individual quartettes. James is beginning his second year with the organization and is librarian. There are about 40 members in the San Jose chapter with several beside Bob from around here. There are 26,000 members in the national group and 600 chapters, the national headquarters are now in Kenosha, Wisc.

Bob invited us over to see and hear the quartets in action. They meet and warble on Wednesday night (while we are just across the way getting the paper out). He also added that the "Sweet Adelines", the ladies' group, meets in the same place on Thursday night.

Now that we know the score we just may drop in.

We owe an apology to Tony Gil, a Campbell mail carrier. We identified Tony in the picture of the carriers we published last week as "Tony Gip". Sorry, Tony.

When we were taking the picture of the carriers (it had to do with the story on Ira Grim, who is retiring as postmaster this month after 22 years in office) Dick Adams, assistant postmaster, jotted down the names of the carriers for us.

Dick did an excellent job. He printed the names and every one was legible. But the darndest thing happened on Tony's name. The top of the "l" in "Gil" swung up and met perfectly the bottom loop of a "g" in the line above it making a perfect "gip" instead of "gil."

That's when a "gip" became a "gyp".

We sounded off recently in this column about the proposed cigaret and beer tax that the teacher lobby in Sacramento is attempting to push through. We are bitterly opposed to the principle of singling out a certain segment of the population (whether it be smokers, drinkers or bald-headed people) to foot the bill for education.

We note with pleasure that the legislators in Sacramento are not kow-towing to the whims of the teacher lobby this time, despite name-calling tactics indulged in by Dr. Arthur F. Corey, executive secretary of the California Teachers Association rated as the most powerful lobby in Sacramento. Dr. Corey has implied in his statements that the legislature was listening too hard to the cigaret and liquor lobby. (Apparently legislators are only supposed to listen to the CTA.)

Anyway is looks like a battle is brewing and the smoke screen is going to be mighty heavy in this cigaret-beer tax controversy. Several legislators have claimed that the only pressure being exerted is from the teachers lobby, and have demanded a public apology from Dr. Corey for his insinuations.

When we cited our opposition to the tax we mentioned that our objection wasn't just because we enjoyed a smoke and an occasional glass of beer.

Our interest stemmed from the principle involved.

Our opposition to the unfair tax is still as strong as ever despite the fact that since we sounded off the first time we have quit smoking.

For the record this possible extra tax had nothing to do with it. We had talked about quitting long before the teacher lobby had started their operation to raise $70 million primarily for increases in teachers salaries.

Let the record also show (because we have heard that a number of teachers have been sniping at us from the sidelines) that we are not opposed to raising teachers' salaries per se.

We just don't think it a bit fair to make a certain group pay for the raise while others get off scot free.

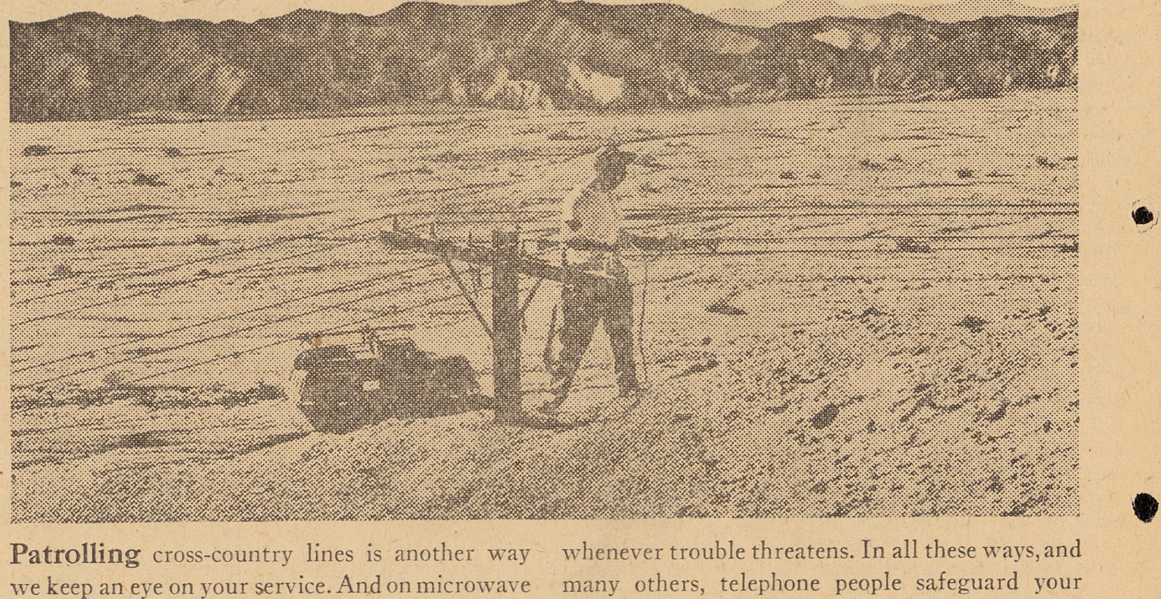
She was the sister of Fred and Vernon Stuckey of Gilroy, Loy Stuckey of Texas, Harvey Stuckey and Elah Dodson of Modesto, L. E. Stuckey of San Jose, M. T. Watchful eyes guard your voice when you telephone

Every time you make a phone call, a vast network of equipment speeds your voice to its destination. But a failure anywhere along the line could interrupt your service. So telephone people have worked out many ways to head off possible cases of trouble. For instance, in the maintenance center where Mike Sturtevant (above, left) and Stan Jansen work there's a new kind of line tester that checks the condition of thousands of lines an hour. It shows how well yours and others are working. In addition, telephone central offices have automatic trouble recorders that keep tabs on dial switching equipment. These recorders reveal trouble before it can interrupt routing of your calls.



Patrolling cross-country lines is another way we keep an eye on your service. And on microwave radio-relay routes and many cables, built-in alarms sound off automatically back in a control center whenever trouble threatens. In all these ways, and many others, telephone people safeguard your calls round the clock. It's part of the dependable phone service you've come to count on.

RADIANT BRIDE AND GROOM ... making the first cut in their elaborate wedding cake are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ray Baker, who were married on February 3 in the First Methodist Church. The bride is the former Carol Frances Dunn.

Carol F. Dunn Becomes Bride of Robert Baker in Afternoon Rites

Now at home at 52 Hawthorne Ave., San Jose, after their February 3rd wedding in the First Methodist Church are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baker. The mid-afternoon ceremony was performed by the Reverend Herbert Neale.

The bride is the former Carol Frances Dunn, daughter of Mrs. Marion E. Dunn of 392 Carlyn Ave., Campbell, and sister of Steven Dunn, a graduate of Campbell High School now attending Stanford University. She is also a Campbell High graduate and is now attending San Jose State College where she is a Nursing major.

Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Baker of 1520 Walnut Grove Ave., and brother of Ronald Baker and Mrs. Shirley Large, all of San Jose. He is a graduate of San Jose State College.

For her wedding, Carol selected a ballerina gown of white Dupioni silk with Empire bodice of re-embroidered Alencon lace sparkling with seed pearls and palais styled with Sabrina neckline, long sleeves and bouffant skirt featuring a tiny bow back. Her elbow-length French illusion veil was caught to a half-hat of matching silk and lace trimmed with seed pearls and palais. She carried a pearl-covered prayerbook marked with lilies-of-the-valley and satin ribbons when escorted to the altar by her brother, Steven.

Bridal attendants identically gowned were Miss Joyce Hansen, maid of honor; Mrs. Shirley Large and Miss Mary Munson, bridesmaids. They wore princess-styled embroidered ruby crystalette dresses with Sabrina necklines and cap sleeves, and matching head bands of ruby crystalette and pearls with demi-veils. Their bouquets were ruby-red roses and pink carnations combined with satin bows.

The duties of best man were performed by Ralph Marbry. Ushers were Charles Sloan, Richard Lake, Robert Young and Conrad Kersey.

Mrs. Dunn, mother of the bride, wore a silver fox stole over a pale blue crepe with matching satin long-sleeved bolero and black suede accessories. Her shell pink hat was of milan straw and her corsage of orchids.

Mother of the groom, Mrs. Ray Baker, was dressed in a navy blue crepe with navy lace trim, rhinestones, and a matching straw hat with sable-dyed squirrel stole and navy blue accessories. Her corsage was also of orchids.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fireside Room of the church where the young couple cut their three-tiered wedding cake and received felicitation from over a hundred friends.

Before leaving on their honeymoon trip to Mexico City, the bride donned a grey tailored suit with black accessories, pearl jewelry, and pinned on a corsage of white orchids.

Dover Club Hears About Museum's Summer Program

The San Jose Junior Museum and its summer program was discussed Monday night at the Dover Home and School Club meeting. Larry Moitozo, director of the museum, was speaker of the evening.

The purpose of the museum program, he pointed out, was to help acquaint the visitor with the world in which he lives. The program is geared to a young level and is aimed to appeal particularly to the youngster of scientific bent.

For children who like science, a Saturday "Big Trip" program is planned in which eight areas of special scientific interest will be visited and studied. The museum also has live birds and animals which the children may study and handle and even, in some cases, take home for temporary pets. In general, the museum tries to plan a program which will hold some interest for almost every age level through childhood, Moitozo said.

The combined fourth grades of Mrs. Short, Mrs. Monsen and Miss Sikes presented a study of Early California, from Indians through the "Gold Rush" period, as interpreted by a voice choir, songs and dances. Brownie Troop 379 led the flag salute. President Roy Monsen conducted the business meeting in which the nominating committee presented its slate of officers for 1957-58.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Petrea chose a mink lace gown trimmed in satin with matching accessories and a green orchid corsage. Mother of the groom selected a dress of pink lace over taffeta and wore a pink orchid corsage.

P. G. and E.'s Cooperative Trinity Plan will gain $310,000,000 for taxpayers and California water users

Trinity River Project is being built to provide more water for California. The Federal Government is building 3 dams and 14 miles of water tunnels to harness the Trinity River. As the water drops out of the mountains through the tunnels it can turn electric generators.

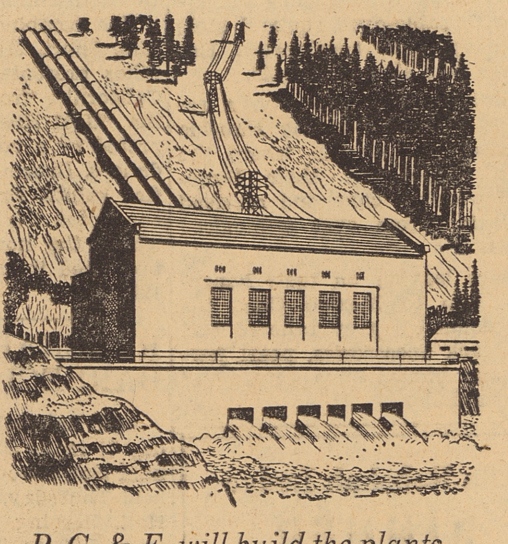
1. Electricity is a by-product of this water project, and P. G. & E. has offered to develop it, cooperating with the Government. Under the P.G.& E. Plan, the company will pay for the building of powerhouses, transmission lines . . . will pay State, Local and Federal taxes . . . plus paying for using the force of the falling water.

2. This plan was studied thoroughly and recommended to Congress by the U. S. Department of Interior. It is similar to other P. G. & E. cooperative plans with the Federal Government, cities, irrigation districts and other local agencies . . . which have been operating in a sound business way for many years, helping cut the cost of water and paying taxes.

3. It will mean a $310,000,000 benefit to water users and taxpayers. Here's how: Over the 50-year project repayment period, the government will gain $165,000,000 net from P. G. & E. payments for using the water; the Company also will pay $145,000,000 in State, Local and Federal taxes. Total gain—$310,000,000. P. G. & E. will build the $56,000,000 power facilities, thus cutting the cost of the project to taxpayers by 25%.

4. It will mean cheaper water and another source of power for all Northern and Central California at reasonable cost. Trinity power can be put to work efficiently and economically through P. G. & E.'s vast inter-connected system, already built and operating. The money gained would permit lower water rates for farmers, public agencies and industries. The power will be sold by P. G. & E., at no extra cost to the rate payers, at rates established by California Public Utilities Commission.



P. G. & E. will build the plants ...

pay Government for use of water...

Don't be fooled by those whose purpose is Government distribution of power

They want the Government to build the power plants and transmission lines and sell power on a Government-ownership basis. This would result in an unnecessary burden on taxpayers and water users, and use of the electricity at subsidized rates by only a favored few.

Other water developments, such as the San Luis Project, can be built in whole or in part with the benefits gained under the P. G. & E. cooperative plan for Trinity.

More than 200 cities, Counties, Chambers of Commerce, Civic Organizations have endorsed the P. G. and E. Plan, and the United States Department of Interior has recommended it as the best way to develop Trinity River electricity.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. As soon as frost is over, all tender plants such as Pleroma, Bouvardia, Fuchsias, and Pelargoniums can be pruned.

2. Try some of the new 1957 Fuchsia introductions. Some of these are much superior to the older varieties.

3. In mild sections, Tree Fuchsias make outstanding accent plants. They are excellent tubbed plants for shady locations.

4. Make selections of Camellias now, while they are in bloom.

5. Subtropical fruits such as Oranges, Lemons and Avocados can now safely be planted.

Annuals for Planting

Spring will soon be here and with it comes a renewal of gardening activities, among them the spring planting of annuals.

Certainly no one will dispute the popularity of the Petunia as a spring annual for the garden. The two All America selections of 1957 make attractive garden plantings; they are Red Satin and Glitters. Scarlet red flowers are loaded on the mounded plans of Red Satin. This Petunia keeps its color, blooms all season and is long lasting. Glitters is the first scarlet and white bicolor Petunia. It is free-blooming; low and compact in growth. Besides these two winning Petunias, there are also varieties in red, salmon, pink, white, purple and lavender.

Petunias need careful watering, and a light, regular fertilizing. The California Association of Nurserymen recommends that gardeners pinch to encourage bushy growth and remove faded flowers.

Popular too among annuals for spring planting is the Pansy and its sister the Viola or Horned Viola. Both these annuals are species of the Viola family. The Pansy (Viola tricolor hortensis) and the Viola (Viola cornuta) require a maximum of moisture and deeply enriched soil. Set the bedding plants eight inches apart and feed them from the time of planting through the growing season. Bait for snails and pick old blooms to extend the flowering season. Both plants are charming in pots, window boxes, planters, as edgings and fillers or with bulbs. Pansy varieties bloom in blues, yellows, mahogany, purple, and white sometimes blotched in different shades.

Snapdragons are equally at home in the garden or indoors in cut bouquets. "Snaps" (Antirrhinum) are available in small, medium and large sizes and their uses can be determined by their size. The tall varieties make handsome border plantings and cut bouquets. The Dwarf forms look good in rock gardens, raised beds or pots.

Snaps bear flowers of yellow, red, white, pink and shades of these colors. Plant Snapdragons in rich soil and feed regularly until the growth is sturdy.

Cut flower supreme, the Stock (Mathiola) grows well under the same conditions as the Snapdragons and Violas. Stock are available in two fragrant species; M. incana and M. bicornis. Mathiola incana is best known and has been developed into several varieties with flowers of white, rose, purple, lavender, red and cream.

Plant Stock in light, well drained, fertile soils. In heavy soils plant on ridges; grow in rows for cutting. Do not over water, for too much water causes stem rot. A handful of sand sifted around the base of the stalk will also help your plant resist stem rot.

Dahlias

Long blooming flowers are becoming increasingly popular here in California because the climate permits outdoor gardening for such a long period of the year. Gardeners looking for colorful flowers to provide many months of garden interest should investigate the Dahlia, suggests the California Association of Nurserymen.

Dahlia bulbs can be planted in a few weeks in locales past the danger of frost and in May in areas where winter still persists. Prepare the Dahlia bed by working organic mater, fertilizer and phosphate material into the bottom of the planting hole. Over this reservoir of 'food' lay a cushion of chemical-free soil. Place a stake in the hole and the Dahlia root or tuber next to it, covering it with several inches of soil. If you wish you can plant two, three or four Dahlia tubers in the hole. As the grow they will entwine and support each other, eliminating the need for an unsightly stake.

Fertilize the plants if necessary when they're well established. Water at time of planting and not again until the plants are up—in three to five weeks. After leaves are in full production and buds are set, Dahlias require lots of water.

To keep down weeds, mulch around the Dahlia plants rather than cultivating. Pinch out the center stalk about the top leaves when the plant has three sets of leaves—this will prevent a top-heavy plant. Extra large flowers can be produced by removing all but the terminal buds on the side stalks.

For cut flowers, cut Dahlias when the buds have opened completely but do not cut right after watering or during the heat of the day. Crush the stems or cut a long diagonal in the stems and give the flowers a greater surface for water absorption.

Dahlias are natives of the Mexican and Guatemalan mountains and they bloom in red, purple, yellow and white. There are many blossom forms—pompon, cosmos, single, peony, ball, cactus, to name a few.

Delphiniums, Primroses

Few perennials are as stately as the Pacific Giant Delphinium hybrids or as adaptable as the Polyantha Primrose. These garden favorites can be planted now and they will give blooms throughout the spring and summer and for several years to come.

The California Association of Nurserymen recommends that both flowers be planted in rich soil. The Delphinium grows best in full sun in cool summer areas and partial shade where summers are hot. Delphinium should be planted in neutral or alkaline soil with good drainage. In planting, do not cover the crown and do not let water settle around it. Stake the Pacific Giant hybrids at planting time for they grow to eight feet and their spikes are loaded with flowers of white, pink, lavender, pale blue, deep blue and blackish blue.

Fertilize Delphinium during early blooming. They will give several periods of bloom throughout the flowering season. Immediately after the first flowering the plants should be cut back to eight or 12 inches of stem. As new growth appears remove the old stem; as the second bloom begins fertilize again and cut again after bloom. Mulch the Delphinium beds with straw in cold winter areas.

Polyantha Primroses are hybrids and were first developed in the 1700's and are still being worked on. These Primroses produce their flowers on stiff sturdy stems rising six to 12 inches above a rosette of fuzzy green leaves. The Primrose flowers in lavender, rose, red, pink.

Plant Primroses in a soil rich with humus and spread the humus as a mulch over the young plants to keep them cool in summer, warm in winter. Primroses will grow well throughout the state. Divide the clumps every other year, wash the eight to 10 divisions that have formed and cut back roots to four inches and replant immediately. Do this after the blooming period.

County May Gain Another Seat in State Assembly

Capitol News Service

An assembly committee has reported that population trends indicate Alameda county definitely will lose one seat in the assembly but Santa Clara will pick one up.

The report by the Assembly Committee on Elections and Reapportionment, said the estimated population of the state on April 1, 1960, will be 15,570,000, an increase of some five million in the past decade.

The report said the metropoliton areas have increased by almost one assembly district, with a corresponding loss by rural areas. Southern California has gained three assembly districts, while norhern California has lost .13 of a district. Central California has lost almost three districts, with the greatest loss (1.48 districts) in the San Joaqin valley.

Orange county, with the greatest gain of any single county, has climbed from 1.63 to 3.03 assembly districts and definitely will be entitled to a third district, the report said.

"Any further attempt to predict future Congressional Districts is even more hazardous than that of assembly districts," the report said, "because the present constitutional reqquirements make for larger variations."

However, it said that, since the number of congressmen will be in excess of 1951, areas that have lost assembly district entitlement still may have gained at the congressional level.

"Thus,the metropolitan areas of California seem due to receive an additional five Congressmen and the rural areas an additional two," the report said.

It showed Santa Clara county would have a population in 1960 of 588,700, as compared with the 1950 population of 290,547.

Lodge to Award Ten Scholarships

Ten college entrance scholarships of $200 each will be awarded by the Grand Lodge of California, Order Sons of Italy in America, to outstanding 1957 high school graduates of Italian ancestry.

This is an increase of more than 60% over the amount awarded in scholarships last year. The scholarships will be paid to the winners on their enrollment in any recognized junior college or accredited college or university, public or private.

Students eligible to apply are seniors wholly or partly of Italian ancestry who will graduate this year from any public or private high school in California or in Klamath County, Oregon, or Washoe County, Nevada.

Application blanks may be obtained by writing the Scholarship Committee of the Order at 678 Green Street, San Francisco 11, California. Applications must be received by the Committee not later than April 30, 1957.

Gubser Heads GOP Special 83rd Club

Congressman Charles S. Gubser (R-Gilroy) has been elected by his fellow representatives to the presidency of the Republican "83rd Club".

Gubser, who served the organization as vice-president last year, was chosen at the Club's first meeting of the 85th Congress at the Bethesda, Maryland, Naval Officers' Club.

The thirty-eight member club is composed of all Republican members who served their first term in the 83rd Congress. Monthly meetings are held with outstanding public figures as speakers, and the club serves as one of the policy-making arms of the Republican Party. As the largest organization of Republican Congressmen, it carries considerable weight in the passage of legislation.

Former presidents include the Honorable Charles Jonas of North Carolina, Laurence Curtis of Massachusetts, Clifford Young of Nevada, and John Rhodes of Arizona.
